well known citizen and prosperous mer-chant of Sistersville, formerly of Wheel-ing. For over a year Mr. World has been falling in health, there being a general break-down of the system and the end came not unexpectedly.

A. D. Work was born in Perry county, Pennsylvania, in 1842, and was in the fifty-fifth year of his age. He attended the public schools in Perry county, and early in life came to Wheeling, where he worked as a naller for many years. At worked as a naller for many years. At the outbreak of the rebellion Mr. Work the outbreak of the rebellion Mr. Work enlisted in a West Virginia regiment on the Union side, and was the first Union soldier wounded after the fall of Sum-ter. This wound was received at the battle of Philippi, in 6,2 pitched battle in Barbous county, in the spring of 1861, and was drafte lines. 'After the war he returned to Wheeling and worked at the nail business until 1839, when he opened a retail grocery store on Thirty-first street, South Side, which is now conducted by his son, F. M. Work. In June, 1829, he went to Sisters-Ville, the oil metropolis, where with missons, he conducted a general store quite successfully. At the time of his death lee was a member of the Sistersville board of education and was prominent in educational circles. While in Wheeling the was a member of the council committee that purchased the Niagara fire engine. He was a member of one of the Wheeling ledges of the Ancient Order of United Workmen and of the Grand Army, which organizations will turn out at his funeral the time of which had not been determined last night. He leaves a wrife, Mrs. Margarat Work, and three sons, F. M., H. H. and G. W. Work, the latter living in Wheeling and the others being associated with their father in business in Sistersville.

Mr. Work had been seriously ill for two weeks.

Death of Mrs. Carr.

Death of Mrs. Carr.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Carr, of Steubenyllie, who died Sunday, aged almost one hundred years, took place yesterday afternoon and was largely attended. Several Wheeling people attended the funeral. Says the Steubenylle Herald of last evenings: In the County Antrim, Ireland, Mrs. Carr first saw the light of day, there she grew up to young womanhood. At her childhood home she was married! By Robert Carr. The young couple were ambitious and anxious to better their condition in life, they had heard of the greatness and grandeur of the then new world. America, the "haven of rest" for the poor and oppressed of all nations, and decided to see for themselves. Bidding adleu to all that was near and dear to them, they sailed for the land of the ries, arriving in New York Jillsal, going from there to Pittsbursh, where they remathed but a short time. From there they came to Ohio, settling near New Philadelphia. After a residence in Tuscarawas county of about seven years they cane to Steubenyille. At the time of her death mother Carr was the oldest mamber of St. Paul's church, having been confirmed auring the recorsilip of Rev. Intropid Morse. She was devoted to her church add in her her church, as well as all other duffes, she was faithful to the end. In her every-day life she strove tey make the world the betfer for her litting in it. Where there was sickness or sorrow, there you found mother Carr. She was lifting always ready, always happy when she could be of any service to suffering humanity. She was one of God's noble women, a boom to mankind and the world.

"Vanity Fair."

The four tamale girls who are the most eccentric dancers on earth are with "Vanity Fair." which is presented by a company of listening high-priced stars, at the Grand the last half of this week. Nothing has ever equalited the glorious spectacular effects produced in "Vanity Fair." and the scenery has been painted especially for this production. To begin with there is a burletta which will represent a yacht club reception in New York, at which guests and commanders of yachts assemble to witness a performance of all the principal artists of the day. That is a show in itself, but it is followed by an oilo of talent that is besubering. Then, to conclude, there is a spectacular production in two scenes, "lay, New York, or Fan at Coney is land," which opens in a swell bistorshop and concludes on Coney Island, in a perfect blaze of glory.

THE MERRY WAR

That is Being Waged by the Arbuckle Cof-tee People and the Sugar Trust is Wel-comed by Consumers of These Staples—A Peculiar Phuse of the Market Yesterday,

In the local wholesale markets there was a remarkable coincidence yesterday. Roasted concess declined a cent a day. Roasted coffees declined a cent a package in price, while green coffee advanced. In a normal condition this would be an impossible feat, but when the fight between the sugar trust, that has bought the immense Woolson coffee and spice plant at Toledo, and the Arbuckles, the great coffee roasters, is remembered, it is not so surprising.

Arbuckles, the great coffes roasters, is remembered, it is not so surprising. Since the war between these two great interests began several weeks ago there has been a steady and uninterrupted decline in roasted coffees, that has not been participated in by the green staple which is not affected by the war. The wholesale grocers and the retail grocers as well—are not gainers by the war, but the consumers get all the benefit and they would gladity welcome a long "acrap" between the two interests, Sugars, too, are declining and the intention of the Arbuckles to go into sugar extensively will cause a heavier decline of that staple soon. The following Associated Press dispatch was received last night from New York: When the sugar people first went into the coffee fight, it was said in Wall street to-day, there was a difference of three to four cents between streen and reasted coffees and in this was the profit to the roasters. Since then green coffee, last gone down six cents, while the margin for profit on roasted coffee is about one-half to one cent. It is said in Wall street that this profit will be wiped, out before the week is over. The sugar company has recently bought the minority stock of the Woolson plant, except sixty shares, which it is stated, the Arbuckles have secured. The Arbuckles are said in the trade to have purchased several thousand bigs of foreign sugars which are to be used here to cut the price of American strades, Just now the holders of the big stocks in Europe and the United States welcome any news, no matter from what source, so long as it tends to help to advance prices.

HEN a well known minister after suffering for years with heart disease, is cired, it is not surprising that he should publish the fact for the benefit of others. Rev. J., P. Smith, 1965 Fulton St., Baltimore, Md., writes: "For years I suffered from a severe form of heart disease. I used Dr. Miles' New Heart Gure, and my heart is now in good condition. Recently, other afflictions came upon me. There was humming, painful sensations on top and back of my head. Fifteen minutes reading would make me almost wild, there were pulling and drawing sensations in my legs all the time, so that I could not statill. In this condition I began taking Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and its effect was simply wonderful. Theartily commend your romedies."
